The Chicago Center for Jewish Genetic Disorders is a cooperative effort of the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago, Children’s Memorial Hospital, and the Illinois Jewish Genetic Disorders Committee. The Center is supported by a generous grant from the Michael Reese Health Trust.

Experts will cover the entire spectrum of Jewish genetic disorders from the latest in screening, diagnosis, management, and treatment of disorders to ethical and legal issues. The conference is designed for physicians and other allied health professionals who have patients with Jewish ancestry. Pediatricians, human geneticists, oncologists, obstetricians/gynecologists, genetic counselors and other health professionals are encouraged to attend.

Wednesday, October 2, 2002

at the Sinai Community Institute Building,
Mount Sinai Hospital, 2635 West Ogden Avenue, Chicago
8:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

There is a $35 registration fee required by September 14th. All dietary laws observed. Free parking available.

Questions? Call Karen Litwack, Center Director:
312.357.4718 • Fax: 312.855.3295 • Email: jewishgeneticsctr@juf.org

Continuing Medical Education
Northwestern University, The Feinberg School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Northwestern University, The Feinberg School of Medicine, Office of Continuing Medical Education designates this educational activity for a maximum of 4.5 hours in category 1 credit toward the AMA Physician’s Recognition Award. Each physician should claim only those hours of credit that he/she actually spent in the educational activity.

This activity is supported in part by